Poet/Police Officer to Headline Smith Library's Poetry Festival
Poet Laureate Readings, Workshops Planned

Wylie, TX, March 23, 2015 – Wylie's Smith Public Library hosts its second annual poetry event, ROAR@SPL Poetry Festival, April 11 and 18.

April 11, from 10 am to noon, Will Richey, an award-winning spoken-word artist, will present an interactive poetry workshop at the library, 300 Country Club Rd., Building 300, Wylie. For youngsters in grades four – 12, participants may bring two poems for publication in the library's ROAR booklet. Lunch is provided, and there will be an open mic opportunity. It is free, but registration is appreciated; call 972-516-6250, option 3.

April 18, from 2 to 4 pm, will be a poetry workshop and reading by poet and police officer Sarah Cortez. Alan Birkelbach, Texas Poet Laureate 2005, and Ann Howells, Pushcart Prize nominee, will also present readings of their work. The workshop is for ages 16 and up and will be held at Barnes & Noble Firewheel, 190 Cedar Sage Dr., Garland. It is also free, but registration is required; call 972-516-6250, option 3.

Cortez, a council member of the Texas Institute of Letters, has published numerous poems, essays and short stories in U.S. anthologies as well as in Europe. Her debut poetry collection, "How to Undress a Cop," won the PEN Texas Literary Award in poetry. Her second book, "Cold Blue Steel," reveals the life of an urban street cop. Her memoir, "Walking Home: Growing Up Hispanic in Houston," was published in 2012, and her latest anthology, "Goodbye Mexico: Poems of Remembrance," celebrates the Mexico of the late 20th century. Cortez is a commissioned police officer with a Harris County law enforcement agency and said her decision 20 years ago to enter the field was the best decision she's ever made.
